"By increasing the free bandwidth capacity for Biznet Home customers, we continue to strive to support the community in providing the best Internet services. Now that the Internet has become a primary need, not only for work and study, but the Internet at home can also be used for entertainment, playing games and other things. We are constantly creating new innovations that can provide a better internet experience for customers, one of them is by providing a larger bandwidth capacity for Biznet Home services. So that it can answer the need for the best WiFi Internet connection from our service while at home," said Adi Kusma, President Director Biznet.

The upgraded bandwidth for free on Biznet Home service is driven by the need for Internet service that continues to increase while at home. This is a solution and innovation provided by Biznet to improve the quality of service to its customers. In addition, now the Internet is not only for doing study and work activities, but can also be used for streaming movies, exercising, and virtual vacations. Various activities can be carried out productively and efficiently because they have Internet access. For this reason, Biznet Home service is here as a solution to answer digital needs and accompany people's vacations at home.
